SPITBALLING: THE BASEBALL DAYS OF LONG BOB EWING WITH AUTHOR MIKE LACKEY [A]

A colorful era in both baseball and American history comes alive in this award-winning biography of an Auglaize County farm boy, who employed a combination of spit and sawy to earn a place in the Cincinnati Reds Hall of Fame. Author Mike Lackey drops the reader into the early years of 20th century-baseball's so-called "dead ball" era, when low-scoring, highly contentious games were a potent mix of fastballs and fisticuffs. Books will be available for purchase ($21) at the program and book-signing.

BOOK CLUBS FOR EVERYONE!

Love talking about your latest read and longing to meet fellow bookworms? We have book clubs for patrons of every age that are geared toward a variety of interests. Our regular Teen Book Club meets afternoons and features picks from all genres, and our Adult Book Club, which meets evenings, shares similarly diverse selections. For readers looking for something a little different, we have Milan's Morning Moment, which combines lively book discussions with gourmet coffee and sweet treats. Our newest group, Generations, is a multi-generational women's club that explores female storytelling and how sharing tales helps bridge the gap between ages. Visit our website events calendar for more details on all our literary groups!
